

Dr. Miguel Ramirez-Gonzalez received the Ph.D. degree from the University of Calgary, Canada, in 2008. From 1998 to 2020, he was working for the Mexican Institute for Electricity and Clean Energy. Since 2020, he holds a Research Associate position at the Institute of Energy Systems and Fluid Engineering of the Zurich University of Applied Sciences (Winterthur, Switzerland). His research areas include power system analysis and control, computational intelligence, and machine learning techniques.